*O Lord with your divine authority, as you once raised the paralytic
Now raise my soul, paralyzed dreadfully with all kinds of sin and disgraceful deeds, that, being saved I may cry out to You:
Glory to Your power, O merciful Christ.*

SUNDAY OF THE PARALYTIC MAN

It was your hand that fashioned man, O Christ our God, and to your boundless goodness you came to earth to heal him of his ills. By your word the paralytic was able to stand and work once more, you touched the son of the Canaanite woman with mercy. You did not deny the request of the centurion, and you healed all who came to you, O Lord, glory to you! The Lord went up to Jerusalem at the time of the feast and walked along Solomon's porch, where a multitude of the sick lay beside the pool of Bethesda. Among the sick was a man who had been paralyzed for years, but he could never reach the pool when the water was stirred, so Jesus asked him if he wished to be healed. Telling him to take up his mat and go on his way, he warned him not to sin anymore now that he was healthy and whole. For your mother's sake, O Christ, let us also share in your great mercy.

THE WORDS OF OUR LORD

The Lord said to the Jews coming to Him: "I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the desert and have died. This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that if anyone eat of it he will not die. I am the living bread that has come down from heaven. If anyone eat of this bread he shall live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world." The Jews on that account argued with one another saying, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" Jesus therefore said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you shall not have life in you. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood, has everlasting life and I will raise you up on the last day."

MID-PENTECOST

In the middle of their feast, quench the thirst of my soul with streams of devotion. For you, O Savior, have exclaimed to all: Let anyone who thirsts come to me and drink. O Christ our God, Fountain of Life, glory to you!

GEORGE THE WONDER WORKER

You fought the good fight with faith O George, martyr of Christ. You convicted the tyrants of their wickedness. You offered yourself as an acceptable sacrifice to God. Therefore, you received a crown of victory, and through your prayers, O holy one, you obtain forgiveness of sins for all.
