THINGS GOD WON'T ASK

God won't ask what kind of car you drove, but He'll ask how many people you drove who didn't have transportation.

God won't ask the square footage of your house, but He'll ask how many people you welcomed into your home.

God won't ask about the clothes you had in your closet, but He'll ask how many you helped to clothe.

God won't ask what your highest salary was, but He'll ask if you compromised your character to obtain it.

God won't ask what your job title was, but He'll ask if you performed your job to the best of your ability.

God won't ask how many friends you had, but how many people to whom you were a friend.

God won't ask in what neighborhood you lived, but he'll ask how you treated your neighbors.

God won't ask about the color of your skin, but He'll ask about the content of your character.

God won't ask why it took you so long to seek Salvation, but He'll lovingly take you to your mansion in heaven, and not to the gates of hell.

THE QUIET SERMON

A member of a certain church, who previously had been attending services regularly, stopped going. After a few weeks, the pastor decided to visit him.

It was a chilly evening. The pastor found the man at home alone, sitting before a blazing fire. Guessing the reason for his pastor's visit, the man welcomed him, led him to a comfortable chair near the fireplace and waited for the usual speech about returning to church.

Instead, the pastor sat down, but said nothing. In the ensuing silence, he contemplated the dance of the flames around the burning logs. After some minutes, the pastor took the fire tongs and carefully picked up a brightly burning ember and placed it to one side of the hearth, away from all the other burning embers. Then he sat back in his chair, still silent. The man watched all this in quiet contemplation. Apart from the others, the one lone ember's flame soon flickered and its glow diminished, then the fire was no more. Soon, it was cold and dead.

Neither man had spoken a word. Then the pastor stood up and picked up the cold, dead ember and placed it back in the middle of the fire. Immediately it began to glow once more with the light and warmth of the burning coals around it.

As the pastor headed for the door to leave, the man said, with a tear running down his cheek, "Thank you so much, Father, for your visit...especially for the fiery sermon. I shall be back in church next Sunday!"

How similar are we to the cold, dark ember when we separate ourselves from our parish, our community, and our God. Our Lord is our Light and our Life...in Him we live, move and have our being!

Faith in God makes the uplook good, the outlook bright, and the future glorious.
