PENTECOST

Again the day of PENTECOST has come...a day of special importance which takes its place alongside Easter Sunday. May we compare the Pentecost of which the Acts of the Apostles speaks and the Pentecost of today?

Yes, we have the right, the duty and the joy to say that Pentecost continues. We know that fifty days after Easter the Apostles gathered in that same Upper Room which had been the place of the first Eucharist and of the first meeting with the Risen Christ.

Here they discovered in themselves the power of the Holy Spirit, who had descended upon them.

It was the power of Him whom the Lord had repeatedly promised them at the cost of His own suffering on the cross. On the strength of this power they began to act, that is, to carry out their service. The Apostolic Church was born. But today, in every church and chapel, there is a continuation of the original Upper Room of Jerusalem.

First there is BAPTISM, the sacrament of the total cancellation of faults, whatever their number or their seriousness may be; then there is PENANCE, the Sacrament of Reconciliation with God and with the Church and also the ANOINTING OF THE SICK.

But the Spirit's work of making us holy always reaches its highest point in the EUCCHARIST, the Sacrament of the fullness of holiness and grace.

In this wonderful flow of supernatural life, what is the place of CHRISMATION? The value of this sacrament springs from the conferring of power by the Spirit of God to each baptized person to make him or her a perfect Christian, ready to bear witness with courage to Christ's resurrection: "You shall be my witness". Because it marks the soul indelibly, Chrismation can never be reduced to a distant memory.

Dear people, may the Spirit of God fill your hearts with His joy and renew your wills.
"Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful, and kindle within them the fire of Your love."

"Let us adore God in three holy persons, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit...three in one. From all eternity, the Father begets the Son, equal to Him in eternity and majesty, equal also to the Holy Spirit, glorified with the Son in the Father, three persons and yet a single power and essence and Godhead"
